The FRENCH CONSTITUTION,

Decreed by the National Assembly, at the Sessions of the years 1789, 1790, 1791—with the Declaration of the Rights of Men and Citizens, the Message of the King to the National Assembly, the 13th of September, 1791, and his Speech on accepting and ratifying the Constitution—the Answer of Mr. Thouret, then President of the Assembly, with this Motto—"Vivre libre, ou mourir"—"To live free, or to die"—translated from the French, with the greatest care and accuracy, with an Introduction of the Translator, dedicated to the Republicans of the new World, by

A FRIEND to LIBERTY.

CONDITIONS.

I. This Book will contain about 90 pages, large Octavo, printed on good paper and with a good type.

II. The price to Subscribers will be a Quarter of a Dollar, to be paid at the time of subscribing.

III. It will be printed in two months, if two hundred Copies are subscribed for.

☞ Subscriptions taken in by the Printers hereof.

Alexandria, Sept. 9, 1792.

What book more interesting can we offer to you, Republicans, than a code of laws made by free men, who, after your example, have regained their liberty by their courage? Yes, gentlemen, it is among you we have caught, I will not say, the love of liberty, (for that is innate in every man) but the vigour and the strength necessary to recover this precious gift of God—this gift which had been usurped from us in the ages of ignorance.

It was in assisting you to acquire the Rights of Man, that we learned to become men ourselves. What nation could be acquainted with you and yet remain in slavery? It has been in all times the characteristic of Republicans to set an example to other nations.

Ignorance and ambition are the parents of tyranny. Those vices are not only the causes of our private misfortunes, but also of our public miseries. Almost every people had, in its beginning, just and mild laws, made after the dictates of nature, suitable to the age & the manners of the time. But the neglect & oblivion of these same laws have introduced abuses which have been always, either sooner or later, a ruin to the nation.

When men at first unite themselves to form a society, they elect among them a certain number of their wise men to create laws, to which every one agrees to submit himself. We are eager to observe the rules we prescribe to ourselves.——This general union, this perfect harmony, is of such advantage to a nation, that in a short time it flourishes and soon becomes rich. This is the point towards which every republic tends, to which some arrive, & which none can withstand. Because nothing human is fixt and durable, the introduction of riches in a country brings with it the corruption of the people; and a corrupt people cannot long be free. Some ambitious men, taking advantage of the depravity of the vulgar, by force of arms usurp the sovereign power, that a people, weakened by their vices, basely give up. It is in this manner the most famous republics have fallen a prey to tyranny. History demonstrates it to us. It was to avoid those evils, the wise Lycurgus banished riches from Sparta, and took great care of the education of the children; therefore he obtained, in some measure, his aim. Let, then, every father teach his children that all men are equal in rights, and that there is no other distinction among men but that which virtue makes—that the most virtuous man, and not the richest, is the greatest man—that the greatest fortune can never truly exalt a man, but may often debase him—(for a moderate use of wealth is a duty, but an intemperate one a crime)—and that nothing ought to be dearer to a true Republican than his country. It is by impressing such principles on the hearts of your descendants that the liberty which you enjoy now, will remain among them from age to age. It is with a view to promote these sentiments that I publish the Book, in favour of which I solicit the patronage of the Patriots.

I am the Public's humble servant,
A FRIEND to LIBERTY.

JERUSALEM:

LATELY FROM NEW-YORK.

A MODEL of the ancient and magnificent City of JERUSALEM, as it stood when OUR SAVIOUR was upon earth, made agreeably to the description of Josephus, is now ready for exhibition, for the entertainment of the curious, it being famous in history for its superb and glorious temple, and other wonderful works, all which are elegantly carved out in miniature, and the mountains in and about the City, with a representation from where our Saviour was taken in the garden, until his crucifixion; all which is contained in the space of 16 feet by 9.

Any time from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 in the evening, it may be seen at Mr. M'Knight's Tavern, at one Quarter of a Dollar each, for grown persons, and half price for Children.

Alexandria, Sept. 6 1792.

N. B. The exhibition of the city of Jerusalem will be removed in the course of 10 or 12 days; those Ladies and Gentlemen who have the curiosity of seeing that most brilliant Exhibition, will please apply before that time.

The proprietor of this Exhibition returns her sincere thanks to all those Gentlemen and Ladies who have favoured her with their custom, since her arrival in this city.

Five Pounds Reward

WILL be given by the subscriber to any person who will apprehend, and deliver to him, a Mulatto Man, about 21 years of age, named CHARLES (SIMMONS, which is the surname of his father, who is a white man) that ran away in the course of the last Spring, with the common dress on that negroes wear, very much worn; for he is remarkable for being careless of his clothes and indolent in every respect; his countenance resembles very much that of an Indian; indeed his habits are not unlike those of Indians, for he always prefers hunting and fishing to any other employments; and I am induced to suppose that he is now engaged in such offices, about the creeks near Alexandria, for a Negro Shoemaker, with a harelip, who lives in the Town, and with whom he was seen in the Month of June last, but who I am now told denies ever having seen him or known any thing about him. Two thirds of the above Reward will be paid to any person who will secure the said Negro in the gaol of Alexandria, or any other, not more distant, and let the subscriber know immediately by letter that he has done so.

BUR MILLSTONES.

THE Subscriber takes the liberty of informing his Friends, and the Public in general, that he has just received, by the ship Smallwood, a large quantity of FRENCH BURS, of the first quality, which he means to manufacture into Millstones, and to sell on the most reasonable terms, for Cash or Country Produce.

All those who may please to favour him with their custom may depend on being served to the best of his skill and judgment; and he flatters himself that he is able to give the highest satisfaction, as he has been at the additional expense of employing a person of judgment to pick the stone in France.

He has also for sale, a general assortment of excellent BOULTING CLOTHS, which have been much approved of by Millers and Flour Inspectors of this place.

PROPOSALS

For PRINTING, by SUBSCRIPTION,

A NEWSPAPER,

To be publiſhed in ALEXANDRIA, twice a Week, entitled

The COLUMBIAN MIRROR,

AND

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

TERMS:

I. This Paper ſhall be publiſhed every Wedneſday and Saturday, beginning on the 7th day of November next, or earlier, if 200 Subſcribers ſhould be ſpeedily obtained, which the Editors will conſider a ſufficient encouragement to proſecute the undertaking.

II. The price to Subſcribers will be Three Dollars per annum; one third to be paid on ſubſcribing, and the remainder at the end of the year.

III. The Paper ſhall be delivered to Subſcribers in Town, at their houſes, early on the morning of publication; and to thoſe at a diſtance it ſhall be forwarded agreeably to their directions.

IV. The ſize of this paper will be as large as the Maryland Journal, and printed with an elegant new Type.

V. Advertiſements will be inſerted upon the moſt moderate terms.

The utility of publications of this nature is ſo well underſtood by the citizens of this country as to render much comment upon the ſubject unneceſſary; but the Editors conceive that it cannot be conſidered as aſſuming, ſhould they contend, that this Paper on fers itſelf with one peculiar recommendatie to the patronage of a free and enlightend people. The great objects of a Newſpaper are to inform, amuſe and improve; the novelty of it's information conſtitutes it's firſt and almoſt only claim to our attention; and in proportion as it is deficient in this ingredient, we loſe our reliſh for the peruſal of it. The Columbian Mirror, by being publiſhed twice a week, will enable the Editors to avoid the neceſſity of preſenting the reader with a long detail of occurrences which he has already ſeen; and by affording frequent occaſion, will put it more in their power to diverſify the materials of their Paper, and thereby accommodate a greater variety of taſtes. The advantages ariſing from an early inſertion of Advertiſements are too obvious to require a ſingle remark.

In the ſyſtem which the Editors have contemplated for the regulation of their Paper, to refuſe the admiſſion of pieces tinctured with private calumny, or tending to reflect an odium upon any religious denomination, is a leading principle; and they pledge themſelves to preſerve it as the condition of their ſucceſs. Though it may be a matter of diſpute whether ſuch writings are not agreeable to a majority of mankind, yet they have never been inclined to think ſo unfavourably of human nature; and were they even convinced that to make their Paper the nurſe of malevolence and invective, would be the ſureſt road to emolument, the approbation of the good and wiſe would ſtill be to them an acquiſition of much more value.

The Editors feel unwilling to cloſe the preſent addreſs without offering an apology for demanding a part of the Subſcription before the publication of the Paper. They have hoped that they ſhould not have been ſubjected to that neceſſity; but the expenſe of an entire new Office, and that accruing from other ſources incident to the commencement of ſuch an undertaking, have excited an apprehenſion that, without a ſmall advance, they might either meet with ſome embarraſſments, or be driven to the alternative of curtailing their arrangements; ſo as to be the leſs beneficial to themſelves and uſeful to the community.

JOHN SMITH,
ELLIS PRICE.

RAN AWAY, from the ſubſcriber, on the 23d inſt. NEGRO PETER, about 18 years of age, a black, artful fellow, about the middle ſtature, and will attempt to paſs himſelf for a freeman; had on and took away with him a coarſe felt hat, two country cotton ſhirts, one pair of white country cotton breeches, one pair do. brown jeans, one country cloth jacket, warped with cotton and filled in with black yarn; he had a ſore heel, and wore away an old ſhoe on that foot. It is imagined, as he is acquainted in Alexandria and it's vicinity, that he will make that way, and endeavour to get into Maryland. Whoever will apprehend the ſaid Slave, and deliver him to me, at Erentown, ſhall have Five Dollars, if taken 20 miles from home; if forty miles, or out of the State, the above Reward, beſides what the law allows. All maſters of veſſels and others are forewarned and deſired, at their peril, not to harbour the ſaid Slave, nor carry him out of the State.
